

Port Entry List and Regulations as at 03.08.2020

Countries	Last updated	Port entry	Quarantine	Regulations
Aruba	20.07.2020	Open	No	Only active cruise vessels are not allowed in port.            Vessels to submit clean Maritime Declaration of Health.            Crew changes permitted in Aruba and Curacao. No crew changes permitted in Bonaire.            Aruba: borders open to certain countries in Europe and USA.            Bonaire and Curacao: borders open to certain countries in Europe.
Belgium	27.07.2020	Open	No	Vessels are permitted alongside. Pre-arrival requirements depend on the terminal. Some require a statement from the Master about health of all crew members.            As flights in/out of Europe are becoming more restricted, crew changes are almost all cancelled.            No visas will be issued until further notice.            All EU borders are closed for the next 30 days to non-EU citizens/residents as per latest decision from EU 18/03/2020            If crew are not EU citizen/resident, no crew change is allowed.            Rules are becoming more strict with new regulations. A partial lockdown is expected.
Croatia	27.07.2020	Open	No	Non EU charterers may enter with a negative PCR Covid19 test that is less than 48 hours old. Without of date test or no test, charterers will be able to be tested in Croatia.            Non EU yacht owners, family members, and friends may enter with a negative PCR COVID19 test that is less than 48 hours old or self isolate and get tested in Croatia within 7 days from entering.            Professional yacht crew members are exempt from the decision on border crossing bans, so no test needed.            Normally, if a yacht is coming from another EU country with the guests on board who are from a NON EU more than 14 days (with the stamp in their passport), they won't be required PCR test for entering into Croatia. This is something to be confirmed for the guests coming by plane.
Cyprus	10.08.2020	Open	Depending on provenance (see notes)	Able to accept international arrivals but currently all crew passengers must remain onboard under quarantine. From 'non-approved' countries, expecting that a control measure will remain which is believed to be a 14- day quarantine, a requirement to present a recent (just before departure) negative covid-19 test, or for a test to be taken upon arrival with disembarkation allowed after receipt of a negative result. All yacht are now allowed in but they are sorted in 3 categories:            Category A: No restriction - normal arrival procedures. Category B: Test on arrival, normal procedures after negative results received. Quarantine until test results are completed (max 24 hours). Category C: 14 days quarantine (including passage time from last port of call). Test on final quarantine day and normal procedures thereafter. The most important in countries from category C since now the days taken from origin to final Cyprus count as days of isolation as long as they do not stop on the way.            Maximum 24 hours for release of crew if all found negative.            Tourists from the UK are now allowed with no quarantine but they must do the test upon arrival.            Everyone must wear a mask except in open spaces and less than 10 people. Arrivals from Greece must now have the test done prior to departure for Cyprus.

Denmark	20.07.2020	Open	See notes	3rd countries nationalities:  Except for Danish citizens, all borders are closed and restrictions have been extended to the 31st of August. In theory, the ports in Denmark are still open for commercial yachts but guests from 3rd country nationalities are now allowed to enter Denmark. These countries are Australia, Canada, Japan, New Zealand, South Korea and Thailand. More countries can be added and some countries can be removed. Crew changes can happen subject to approval. Georgia, Tunisia and Uruguay have been added this week. EU citizens and UK:  Except nationalities from Sweden and Portugal, all other EU and UK nationalities are allowed to enter the Danish borders if there is proof of 6 nights' accommodation. Shore leave for crew members has now been re-established. Crew changes can happen subject to approval. Citizens and nationalities of Schleswig, Holstein and Germany:  Except for the mandatory 6 night accommodation, these restrictions are the same as for the EU. Crew changes can be performed subject to approval. Crew are allowed to go ashore. General restrictions:  If the yacht carries more than 12 guests on board a private or charter yacht, a special permission is required from immigration which generally requires 3 weeks. Denmark follows the EU regulations in regards to VAT applicable for charter boats.  If a charter starts/ends in Denmark, the charter will be subject to Danish VAT.  All services including port services will be subject to VAT of 25%
Egypt	27.07.2020	Open	If infected, yes	Suez canal has specific restrictions.  Regarding vessels port calling alongside, no transit restrictions unless ship size and draft. Orkey ports: Kirkwall, Stromness, North Ronaldsay	29.06.2020	Officially we are still open to cruise ships calling although all vessels will be treated on a case by case basis with final decision being made by port health and other public health bodies. Obviously being a remote location with limited NHS resources would mean that in the current lockdown as proscribed by UK / Scottish Governments it would be unlikely that we would accept a large amount of extra people onto the island until we have at least moved out of this stage of restrictions. We have no cruise calls expected until early May now as lines have suspended their operations but we expect to assist the cruise lines as much as possible as they start their operations again. Similarly we are open to cruise liners wanting lay ups although again this will be taken on a case by case basis as mentioned above
Lerwick	29.06.2020	Currently open for Cruise traffic, the local area is in a practical lockdown situation at the moment, with non-essential businesses closed. Key tourism sites are not operational.
